church Picnic August 20, 2023

Join us directly following the church service in the Parish hall dining room. Hot dogs, hamburgers, and drinks will be provided. Please bring a side dish. We will be meeting the new Director of Music and her family.

Dear Friends in Christ,

In a world filled with empty promises and temporary pleasures, the words of Isaiah 55 resonate as a refreshing invitation from the heart of God. In this passage, we are invited to come and partake in the abundant provision that God freely offers. It is an invitation that extends beyond physical nourishment to the deepest longings of our souls.

God addresses the thirsty and the impoverished, those who are aware of their need and recognize that the world's offerings cannot truly satisfy. He invites them to come to the waters, to drink and be refreshed. But this invitation goes even further; it encompasses all our needs. God invites us to buy wine and milk without money and without cost. It is an invitation to receive His grace, His love, and His abundant blessings freely.

Often, we seek fulfillment in the wrong places. We chase after worldly pleasures, possessions, and pursuits, only to find ourselves still empty and unsatisfied. We invest our time, energy, and resources in things that cannot truly satisfy the deepest longings of our hearts. We settle for temporary pleasures that fade away, leaving us longing for something more.

God's invitation in Isaiah 55 challenges us to reevaluate our priorities. Why spend our lives pursuing what does not truly satisfy? Instead, God urges us to listen attentively and to eat what is good. He desires to satisfy us with the richest of food, nourishing our souls with His truth, love, and presence. Only in Him can we find true satisfaction and fulfillment.

As we respond to God's invitation, we not only find satisfaction for ourselves but also become vessels of His blessings to others. The passage speaks of an everlasting covenant and the faithful love promised to David. In Christ, we are partakers of that covenant, recipients of His steadfast love. God's provision extends beyond our personal needs, as He empowers us to be witnesses to the peoples and instruments of His grace in the world.

The final verses of this passage speak of unexpected blessings and influence. When we align ourselves with God's purposes and live in His abundance, nations we do not know will come running to us. The splendor of God's presence and His work in our lives will be evident, drawing others to Him through our testimony and example.

Today, let us heed the invitation of Isaiah 55. Let us turn our hearts toward God, recognizing that only He can satisfy the deepest longings of our souls. May we seek Him above all else, investing our lives in what truly matters. As we do so, may we become conduits of His blessings, drawing others to Him and experiencing the splendor of His love and grace.

Blessings,

Pastor Mark

Church Council Highlights

Your Church Council met on July 11th, welcoming new Council members Gayle Jackson and Kathryn Myers.

The Property and Management Committee reported on various maintenance projects, including the scheduled replacement of the concrete stairs leading up from the Harvard Avenue parking lot. The old stairs will be removed and the new slightly wider stairs are scheduled to be built in August with the construction project lasting two weeks, weather permitting. The concrete steps project is the first within the Capital Campaign. Building endowment funds as well as donations from the Capital Campaign will be used to cover the cost (as approved by the congregation at the May meeting.)

The Worship and Music Committee, in addition to the Search Committee for a new Director of Music and Organist, unanimously recommended to Council Dr. Abigail Haake to fill that position. Council unanimously approved her hiring and proposed compensation. Although Dr. Haake (Abby) will begin planning in mid August for music programs starting in September, her first Sunday as organist will be September 10th. She and her family will be introduced to the congregation on August 20th. She will play an anthem during the service that Sunday and join us for the church picnic scheduled for that day.

The Capital Campaign committee has been formed and includes the following members: Sue Ambosic, Gayle Jackson, Jim Johnson, and Greg Klein. Pastor Mark will also work closely with the committee.

Other action taken by Council included approval of the following: The purchase of detailed plans drawn by ProTech Systems for a fully-monitored Fire Detection System; the purchase of two new stoves for the kitchen requested by the Kitchen Angels - the cost of one covered by the Mission Endowment Fund and the other covered by Property and Management; and the purchase and installation of two condensation tank motors for the church boiler system. Other action by Council included regretfully accepting the resignation of Sharon Thieret, our Communications Coordinator, and setting the date for the annual August meeting of the congregation for Sunday, August 27th. Please mark your calendars!

Respectfully shared,
Patty Long
President, Church Council

Adult Sunday School

The adult Sunday School class will not meet during the month of August. We will plan to resume on Sunday, September 10th. Have a wonderful summer and we'll look forward to our time together beginning again in the fall. May God's abundant blessings continue to be yours.

Prayer List Changes

In order to communicate the names of those who are in need of our more immediate attention and prayers, the names of individuals will be kept on the prayer list found in the church bulletin for one month and then removed. If there is an individual who needs to remain on the list, a call should be made to the church office requesting the name be placed on the list. Please know these changes are being made so we might give particular prayerful attention to those more recently added to the list. Thank you for your kind understanding. - (Worship and Church Music Committee)

The Prodigal God by Timothy Keller

In six captivating DVD video sessions, pastor and New York Times bestselling author Timothy Keller opens your eyes to the powerful message of Jesus' best-known - and least understood - parable. The Prodigal God is a revelation of the very heart of the gospel: God's radical love for sinners of every kind.

Taking you beyond the traditional focus on the wayward younger son, Dr. Keller helps you glean insights from each of the characters in Jesus' parable: the irreligious younger son, the moralistic elder son, and the Father who lavishes his love on both. The Prodigal God will challenge the devout and the skeptic alike to see Christianity in a whole new way.

Stewardship

The Stewardship of Saying Goodbye

Life is filled with a constant cycle of hellos and goodbyes. Whether it's bidding farewell to a loved one moving away, saying goodbye to a season of life, or parting ways with cherished relationships, goodbyes can be both challenging and bittersweet. However, even in the midst of farewells, we have an opportunity to exercise stewardship in the way we say goodbye.

Stewardship goes beyond managing our resources; it encompasses how we handle and care for the people and relationships entrusted to us. When it comes to saying goodbye, we are called to be intentional and thoughtful, reflecting God's love and grace in our words and actions.

First and foremost, saying goodbye with gratitude is an act of stewardship. Gratitude acknowledges the impact and blessings that the person or situation has brought into our lives. It recognizes the goodness and faithfulness of God in the journey we shared. Expressing gratitude helps us shift our focus from the sadness of parting to the joy of having experienced something meaningful together. As stewards of relationships, we are called to cultivate a spirit of gratitude and let it shape our farewells.

Secondly, saying goodbye with love and kindness is an essential aspect of stewardship. Our words and actions carry weight and can deeply impact others. As followers of Christ, we are called to let our love be genuine and to treat others with kindness, even in our goodbyes. This may involve forgiving and seeking forgiveness, extending grace, and offering words of encouragement and affirmation. By doing so, we leave a lasting impression of God's love and grace on the hearts of those we say goodbye to.

Additionally, saying goodbye with faith and hope is a vital part of stewardship. We serve a God who works all things together for good, even in the midst of difficult goodbyes. Our faith assures us that God's plans for our lives and the lives of others extend far beyond our present circumstances. As stewards of hope, we can point others to the promises of God and remind them that the goodbyes we experience on earth are temporary. We can encourage them to trust in God's faithfulness, knowing that He goes before us and will guide us into the future.

Lastly, saying goodbye with a commitment to ongoing connection and support reflects good stewardship. While farewells often bring physical separation, we can still maintain relationships through prayer, encouragement, and staying connected whenever possible. As stewards of relationships, we can make an effort to reach out, check in, and offer support even from a distance. Technology has provided us with numerous ways to bridge the gap, allowing us to continue nurturing the connections we value.

As we say Goodbye to Chad this month, let us embrace the stewardship of saying goodbye. May we express gratitude for the blessings we have received and given to Chad, show love and kindness to those around us who are hardest hit by Chad's leaving, hold onto faith and hope in God's plans for Chad's future ministry as a college teacher, and let us commit to holding Chad in prayer as he embarks on this new journey. In doing so, we honor God in our farewells and leave a lasting impact on the lives of others.

Blessings,
Pastor Mark
